

Art, Abe and Arne

---

Michael Sodeau

Technical

A trio of tables crafted from 100% recycled cork with a section removed to allow for storage, Art, Abe and Arne have much in common with one another but perform distinctly different roles. Art is the smallest and functions best as a side table with an angled cut out, perfect for a book or two. Abe works well as an end table with horizontal storage section. Arne is the largest of the three, happiest as a coffee table with a concentric cut out that is ideal for magazines. When grouped together the tables appear to take on their own characters, similar yet individual, like a group of relatives.
